NATURE OF ACTION

1. This is an action for personal injuries sustained by plaintiff, Z.A., an infant, against defendant Hyatt Corporation. 11. Defendant Hyatt advertises and promotes its hotel rooms under many brand names, including but not limited to Park Hyatt and the Park Hyatt St. Kitts Christophe Harbour.

12. Like other large hotel chains, consumers in New York continuously and systematically book hotel rooms with Hyatt hotels through Hyatt's corporate website, Hyatt.com and its World of Hyatt mobile application.

13. At all relevant times, Hyatt had, and continues to have, control over the content and advertising displayed on its website, Hyatt.com.

13. At all times relevant, defendant Hyatt receives revenue directly and/or indirectly from the Park Hyatt St. Kitts.

14. Upon information and belief, defendant Hyatt Corporation is the operational entity that controls other "Hyatt" brands, other "Hyatt" branded subsidiaries, including the Park Hyatt St. Kitts, and received revenue, directly or indirectly, from "Hyatt"-branded subsidiaries and /or business ventures, including the Park Hyatt St. Kitts.

21. Hyatt derives substantial revenue from services rendered in the State of New York.

22. Hyatt derives some substantial commercial benefit from New York.

23. Defendant’s overall contact with New York is substantial enough to make it reasonably subject to jurisdiction in New York.

24. Defendant is economically big enough to be able to defend a lawsuit in New York without undue hardship and in satisfaction of due process concerns.

25. Defendant committed tortious acts and/or omissions both within and without the State of New York.

26. Plaintiffs’ causes of action arose from Defendant’s acts and/or omissions.

27. Defendant expected or should reasonably have expected its acts to have consequences in the State of New York.

28. The Park Hyatt St. Kitts, acting through its agency or apparent agency relationship with Hyatt Corporation, made a deliberate business decision to continuously and systematically reach into the United States, and into New York specifically, to acquire nearly all of its customers, rather than confining its business activities to St. Kitts and Nevis in the British West Indies.

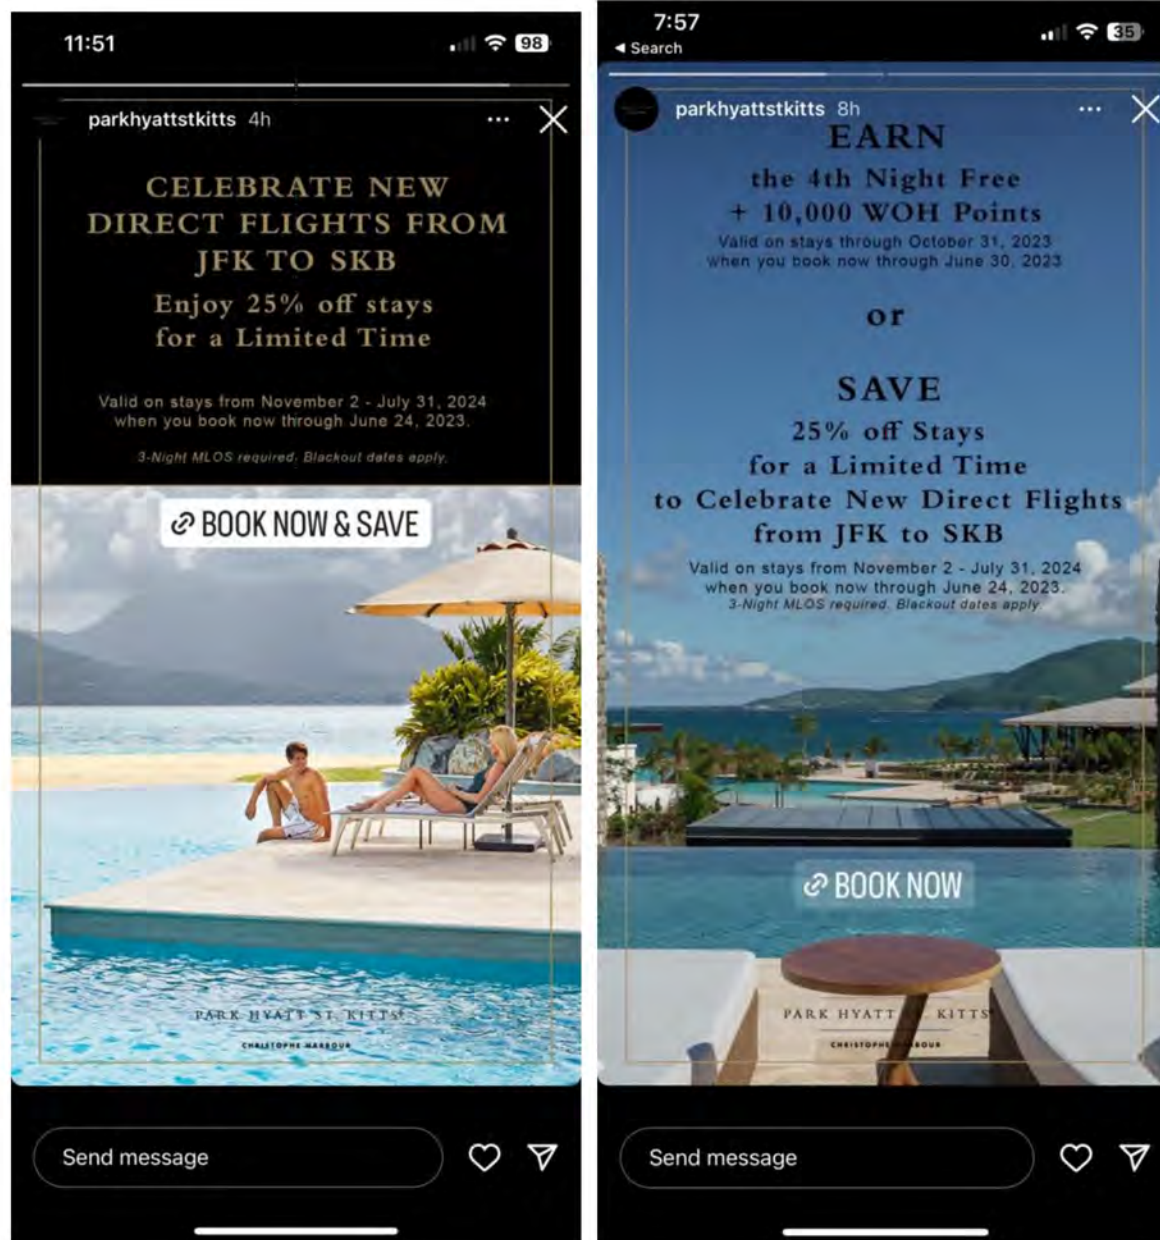

29. Defendant's acts and/or omissions caused injury to persons and/or property within the State, including to Plaintiff Z.A. herein.

30. Plaintiffs are residents of the State of New York, County of New York. Under the facts and circumstances of this case, and pursuant to CPLR § 503, venue and jurisdiction are proper in this court.

31. At all times relevant, Defendant advertised nationally and in New York specifically, thereby projecting itself into the New York market.

32. Upon information and belief, the defendant advertised direct flights from New York's JFK Airport to St. Kitts' SKB Airport on its Instagram account, specifically targeting New York consumers to promote sales of hotel rooms at the Park Hyatt St. Kitts.

33. Included below is a screenshot of the defendant's marketing and advertising efforts targeted towards New York. The screenshot shows an Instagram advertisement offering discounts to New York residents and consumers, demonstrating the defendant's strategy to attract customers from the New York area to the Park Hyatt St. Kitts resort.

34. Defendant marketed and promoted the Park Hyatt St. Kitts on its website, Hyatt.com, to consumers in New York, including Plaintiffs herein.

35. Defendant offered, and continues to offer, its World of Hyatt loyalty rewards program to consumers in New York, including the plaintiffs herein, thereby creating a meaningful connection between defendant and New York.

36. Included below is an advertisement posted to the Park Hyatt St. Kitts' Instagram account promoting the use of World of Hyatt ("WOH") points to book stays at the Park Hyatt St. Kitts.

AS AND FOR A CAUSE OF ACTION FOR VICARIOUS LIABILITY BASED ON APPARENT AGENCY OR AGENCY BY ESTOPPEL

37. At all times relevant, Carmit Archibald was a member of the World of Hyatt loyalty rewards program. Plaintiff Carmit Archibald used World of Hyatt rewards points on the Hyatt website, Hyatt.com, to book, purchase, and confirm hotel rooms at the Park Hyatt St. Kitts on behalf of her husband and minor children, Z.A. included. Carmit booked and confirmed hotel room reservations at the Park Hyatt St. Kitts from the Archibald Family’s home and residence in Manhattan.

38. Included below is a fair and accurate screenshot of Carmit Archibald’s point expenditure booking a stay the Park Hyatt St. Kitts using World of Hyatt membership rewards points.

39. At all relevant times, Defendant represented to Plaintiffs, and to New York consumers, on its website, Hyatt.com, that the Park Hyatt St. Kitts was owned, operated, maintained and/or controlled by Hyatt as a Park Hyatt-branded property. These representations made by the Defendant were consistent across its communications with Plaintiffs.

40. At all relevant times, Upon information and belief, defendant Hyatt had an agreement with the Park Hyatt St. Kitts that authorized Defendant to act as the Resort's actual or apparent agent or alter ego in the United States, and in New York. Under this agency relationship, the defendant marketed, advertised, sold, and confirmed hotel rooms and to customers in New York, including the Plaintiffs herein. Importantly, the defendant was able to bind the Park Hyatt St. Kitts to these obligations without the Park Hyatt St. Kitts first having to confirm with Hyatt.

41. The sale of the hotel rooms to the Plaintiffs, and Plaintiff Carmit Archibald's participation in the World of Hyatt loyalty membership rewards program, was actually and/or proximately caused by Hyatt Corporation and the Park Hyatt St. Kitts' deliberate efforts to market, sell, and cater to customers in the U.S. and New York, rather than focusing solely on the local market in St. Kitts and Nevis in the British West Indies.

42. Defendant represented the Park Hyatt St. Kitts as a Hyatt-branded property that was owned, operated, managed, and/or controlled by Hyatt.

43. These representations suggested the resort would meet Hyatt's brand and safety standards, which was material to Carmit's purchasing decision.

A. Plaintiffs' Reliance on Hyatt's Representations

44. In and around the fall of 2022, Plaintiffs Carmit Archibald and Georges Archibald, planning a family vacation with, and on behalf of, their three minor children for their spring break, Z.A. included, booked and confirmed accommodations at the Park Hyatt St. Kitts Christophe Harbour on the Hyatt.com website.

45. Carmit, a World of Hyatt member, utilized membership rewards points for the booking, and was influenced by prior positive experiences with Hyatt hotels in various locations as well as the brand's reputation for high standards and reliability.

Based on Carmit's prior favorable experience at Hyatt hotels and resorts in Aruba, Hawaii, and Costa Rica, Carmit searched for Hyatt hotels on the World of Hyatt website and found the Park Hyatt St. Kitts listed as a Hyatt hotel (<https://www.hyatt.com/en-US/hotel/saint-kitts-and-nevis/park-hyatt-st-kitts/skbph>).

46. Attached as Exhibit A is a printout of Hyatt's webpage for Park Hyatt St. Kitts, reflecting the same or similar content that Carmit Archibald reviewed and relied upon for information and to make the subject reservation.

47. Carmit was under the reasonable belief that the Park Hyatt St. Kitts was owned, operated, managed, and/or controlled by defendant Hyatt, consistent with previous experiences with the brand, and as represented through booking the hotel on the Hyatt website, and that the Hotel's name was Park Hyatt St. Kitts.

48. The foregoing constitutes the creation by defendant Hyatt Corporation of the appearance of an agency relationship between it and the Park Hyatt St. Kitts, upon which appearance Carmit reasonably relied in booking her hotel rooms and thereby reasonably believed Hyatt Corporation was responsible for the Resort's premises and any room or space she and her family might occupy at the Resort.

49. Included below is a screenshot capturing the banner content on Hyatt's website for the Park Hyatt St. Kitts.. The Park Hyatt logo is prominently featured on the banner, which served as a key basis for Carmit's reliance.

50. Once at the Resort, Carmit was confirmed in her initial reasonable belief that the Park Hyatt St. Kitts was owned, operated, managed, or controlled by Hyatt Corporation and was in fact a Hyatt hotel. This belief was reinforced by the presentation of the Park Hyatt and World of Hyatt logos throughout the booking process, pre-arrival communications from @hyatt.com email addresses, and branded materials encountered at the hotel, including receipts, stationery, signage brochures, and guides.

51. Annexed hereto as Exhibit B are reservation and booking confirmation emails Carmit received, which contain the Park Hyatt and World of Hyatt logos, and are sent from @hyatt.com email address domains.

52. Annexed hereto as Exhibit C is a receipt dated April 09, 2023 for a UPF 50+ sun shirt purchased by Z.A.'s parents for Z.A at the Banana Bay Boutique at the Park Hyatt St. Kitts. The receipt states "Park Hyatt."

53. Annexed hereto as Exhibit D is a Park Hyatt St. Kitts Concierge Guide, featuring the recognizable Park Hyatt logo. The annexed Concierge Guide is the same or similar to the one provided to Carmit and Georges upon checking into the hotel.

54. The aforementioned documents are indicative of the impression Hyatt sought to give that the Resort was owned, operated, managed and/or controlled by Hyatt.

55. The foregoing constitutes the creation by defendant Hyatt Corporation of the appearance of an agency or apparent agency relationship between it and the Park Hyatt St. Kitts, upon which appearance Carmit reasonably believed Hyatt Corporation was responsible for the Resort's premises and any room or space she and her family might occupy at the Resort.

56. Nothing Carmit and Georges had seen prior to booking the rooms, and nothing they had seen or heard while at the Park Hyatt St. Kitts Resort itself indicated that it was not owned, operated, managed, or controlled by defendant Hyatt Corporation.

57. At no point before or during their stay were the Plaintiffs informed or given reason to believe that the Park Hyatt St. Kitts did not adhere to the Hyatt standards or was not under the direct ownership, operation, management, or control of Hyatt. This led the Plaintiffs to reasonably expect the quality and reliability synonymous with the Hyatt and Park Hyatt brand.

B. Z.A.'s Severe Injury, Facial Disfigurement and Toppling of the Unsecured Aquatic Basketball Hoop

58. On or about April 09, 2023, Plaintiff, Z.A., who weighed approximately 80 pounds and was 4 feet 10 inches tall at the time, was swimming and playing aquatic basketball in the Resort's "Lagoon" swimming pool. While engaged in this activity, an inadequately secured aquatic basketball hoop toppled over and struck Z.A. on the head.

59. The impact resulted in a significant laceration medial to Z.A.'s left eyebrow, extending leftward across his forehead. The laceration was accompanied by additional cuts, bruises, scarring, and discoloration. The incident caused copious amounts of blood to fill the pool, and the curvature of the laceration and scar on Z.A.'s head aligns with the shape of the basketball hoop's rim. This incident caused Z.A. to sustain severe and permanent injuries and facial disfigurement.

60. Included below is a true and accurate photograph of the aquatic basketball hoop located in the Resort's Lagoon Pool, taken at or around the time of the incident involving the plaintiff, Z.A.

61. Hotel management was promptly notified of the incident. The basic facts of the incident were recounted by a letter written on stationery and signed by the Resort's general manager, Richard Elliott, which at the top contain the words "Park Hyatt St. Kitts." See Exhibit E annexed hereto.

62. The aquatic basketball hoop, positioned at the edge of the swimming pool, was not adequately secured to the pool deck. Its base was improperly weighted or affixed, directly leading to the hoop's toppling over and striking the plaintiff, Z.A., in the head.

63. This unsafe condition and safety oversight was due to the negligence and breach of duty by the Park Hyatt St. Kitts, its agents, servants, and/or employees. They failed to maintain the premises in a reasonably safe condition by allowing the aquatic basketball hoop to remain unsecured and in a defective, top-heavy, and dangerous state, creating a trap for the plaintiff.

64. The aquatic basketball hoop, positioned at the pool's edge, lacked adequate securing to the pool deck, with its base improperly weighted or affixed. This condition and safety oversight directly and proximately led to the hoop's toppling over and striking Z.A. in the head.

65. The aforesaid condition was due to the negligence and breach of duty owed to plaintiff by the Defendants, its agents, servants, and/or employees, in failing to maintain the premises in a reasonably safe condition by permitting the aquatic basketball hoop to not be securely fastened or weighted down to the pool deck; in permitting the aquatic basketball hoop to remain in a defective condition and unrepaired condition, thus causing it to become top-heavy, dangerous, and a trap for the Plaintiff.

66. Upon information and belief, the aquatic basketball hoop's base was not filled with sufficient water. This safety oversight directly led to the hoop's toppling over. The hoop's improper installation and maintenance facilitated the incident and caused Z.A. facial disfigurement, scarring, serious and permanent injuries, pain and suffering, and mental anguish.

67. This incident was a foreseeable consequence of neglecting the necessary safety protocols and maintenance standards expected at Hyatt hotels and resorts.

68. At all material times, the Hotel owed to Plaintiff to maintain its premises in a condition that was safe for all invitees and resort guests though proper inspections and follow-up and to correct dangerous conditions of which it either knew or should have known by the use of reasonable care.

69. At all material times, the Hotel owed to Plaintiff the duty to warn of dangerous conditions which it had or should have had knowledge of greater than that of Plaintiff.

70. Despite these duties, the Defendant failed to take reasonable precautions for the safety of Plaintiff, who was lawfully on the premises, and Defendant negligently breached its duties by failing to establish uniform standards for the maintenance or hazard identification of its Hotels consistent with the best practices of similar hotels; and by failing to inspect and maintain the area where the aquatic basketball hoop fell, the exercise of which would have revealed a hazardous condition.

71. Defendant, its agents, servants, and/or employees had actual or constructive notice of the dangerous and unrepaired condition of the aquatic basketball hoop.

72. Plaintiff was free from any negligence or culpable conduct contributing to the aquatic hoop's toppling over into the pool and onto him and resulting injuries.

73. The representation that the Park Hyatt St. Kitts was a Hyatt-operated, managed, and/owned property form the basis for Hyatt's liability under the doctrines of apparent agency and agency by estoppel, as they directly influenced Plaintiffs' decision to stay at Park Hyatt St. Kitts and exposed them to harm.

74. Defendant's conduct led Plaintiffs to reasonably believe that Park Hyatt St. Kitts was an agent or entity acting under the direct control and authority of Hyatt.

75. Given the agency and/or apparent agency relationship, Hyatt is vicariously liable for the negligent actions and omissions of Park Hyatt St. Kitts that led to Z.A.'s injuries. This liability is grounded in the principle that Hyatt, by holding Park Hyatt St. Kitts out as part of its brand and under its operational control, must bear responsibility for the failures of Park Hyatt St. Kitts to maintain the safety and quality standards purported by Hyatt.

76. By virtue of Defendant's representations, and the Archibald Family's reliance on Defendant's representations, an apparent agency or agency by estoppel was created between Hyatt Corporation and Park Hyatt St. Kitts.

77. Hyatt's representations concerning the the safety, control, and operational standards at Park Hyatt St. Kitts subjected Plaintiffs to risks that they otherwise would not have accepted.

78. As a result of Defendant's acts and omissions, Plaintiffs have been caused to expend monies they would not have otherwise have had to expend.

79. The limitations of liability set forth in Article 16 of New York's CPLR do not apply to this action.

80. The amount of damages sought by this complaint exceeds the jurisdictional limits of all lower courts that might otherwise have jurisdiction herein.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays for an Order from the Court permitting discovery on the Defendants to establish personal jurisdiction, and Plaintiff prays for judgment against the Defendants as follows:

- a. For general damages according to proof at trial;
- b. For special damages according to proof at trial;
- c. For damages for loss of earning capacity, according to proof at trial;
- d. For damages for other economic losses, according to proof at trial;
- e. For interest on general and special damages, to the maximum extent permitted by law;
- f. For costs of suit incurred herein; and
- g. For such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

Fantastic Property and Staff!!

Ed P | Dallas, TX

"I have stayed at five star hotels across several continents. This hotel was amazing. The staff was very attentive and was constantly asking how things were and how they could help. The can-do attitude was fantastic. The rooms are great with views that are stunning...cannot wait to return."
